

Objectives of Inner Wheel

To promote true friendship

Members of a club meet regularly at meetings, projects and fellowship events. Thus, strong friendships are built and clubs get strengthened. Clubs plan inter-club activities, service projects or fellowship get-togethers, where other Clubs are invited to join. Thus the circle of friends gets larger. Such friendships work together to provide greater service to the community.

To encourage the ideals of personal service

By working together to serve the local community our Clubs have an outstanding record of personal service to the community. They offer selfless service whether by giving time and finance, or planning and executing projects in various ways.

To foster international understanding

Clubs offer support in times of crisis to overseas clubs, and charities too. They partner in projects and also support International Inner Wheel's service campaigns. Clubs correspond with linked Clubs of other regions and meet every three years at an International Convention.
